

Equipto Signs 2005-2006 Sponsorship Agreement as the Official Automotive Space Utilization Solution Provider for Cable TV's Two Guys Garage

Agreement signed to be the official sponsor of Two Guys Garage

Tatamy, PA (PRWEB) June 22, 2005 -- Equipto is pleased to announce that it has signed a 1-year agreement with Brenton Productions, Inc. to be the official automotive space utilization provider of the top rated television show, Two Guys Garage. The show can be seen on the SPEED Channel Cable Network.

The agreement calls for Equipto to supply the Two Guys Garage television studio set with all products pertinent to the automotive marketplace for 26 new episodes.

Equipto will be launching its new MechaniKing brand of automotive workbench and storage products aimed at professional and amateur automotive enthusiasts - people who take their mechanicking business or hobby very seriously and want only the best equipment in their garages, according to Joe Gianfalla, VP Marketing & Sales for Equipto. The Two Guys Garage program will nicely complement Equipto's first appearance as an exhibitor at the SEMA Show in Las Vegas during the first week of November 2005.

Dave Bowman, Executive Producer and co-host of Two Guys Garage states, Two Guys Garage is very excited about adding the new MechaniKing product to the show set, we need all the organization we can get.
