

Keep It Clean! The Purge System, World Patent Marketing's Clean Fuel Invention, Will Prevent Pollutants From Getting Into The Atmosphere

World Patent Marketing Reviews a New Clean Fuel Invention. Will Purge System be the Next World Patent Marketing Low Cost Success Story?

Miami, FL (PRWEB) December 17, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, introduces the Purge System, a clean fuel invention that will help clean up diesel emissions from factories and large transport vehicles.

“The diesel industry is worth $150 billion,” says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. “Freight delivery and transportation is a huge part of the US economy and fuel consumption makes up about 20% of total operating costs for motor carriers.”

“Industrial equipment is a huge part of the backbone of our country, from factories to trains to transport vehicles” says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. “However, it also tends to give off a huge amount of pollutants into the atmosphere. This clean fuel invention will help cut down on some of the pollutants that get released into the atmosphere.”

The Purge System is a clean fuel invention that will help make the Earth a better place. There are many large diesel-powered transport vehicles actively running all across the country from trucks to trains. They are very necessary to keep the country functioning as it is but they also release many pollutants into the atmosphere. In addition, there are many factories with large smokestacks constantly spewing pollutants into the atmosphere. This invention was designed to cut these pollutants down significantly. The Purge System is a set of sprinklers that can be installed inside the smokestack or exhaust port of a vehicle that waters down the smoke as it exits. The pollutants get caught in the droplets of water and are weighed down, staying inside rather than getting out into the atmosphere. The Purge System will prevent toxic chemicals from spreading to people and wildlife, helping people stay safer and healthier for years to come.

"We are passionate about our product as we know it will not only aid in the prevention of degradation within our atmosphere and the air that we breathe, but will also change the lives of millions in more ways than one," says inventor David G. "It is crucial to control the amount of pollution that is emitted into the air as nature, wildlife, and human life are precious gifts to mankind. Which is why we will be exerting our efforts toward a healthier, safer, and more habitable tomorrow."

The Purge System is a clean fuel invention that uses water to trap diesel and smoke emissions and prevent them from entering the atmosphere. This will help cut down on the pollution going into the Earth.
