

European Performance Transmissions Have Been Added to the IPT Performance Transmissions Product Line

IPT is expanding its product line to include complete performance transmissions, custom high stall torque converters, modified valve bodies, heavy duty components and high performance transmission rebuild kits for Audi, BMW, Jaguar, Mercedes, Saab, Volvo, Volkswagen, VW and ZF transmissions.

Wayne, NJ (PRWEB) December 6, 2005 -- As more European vehicles are being modified for higher performance and increased horsepower, their automatic transmissions have shown the need for products and components designed to cope with the additional stress.

Staying ahead of the competition as always- IPT is expanding its product line to include complete performance transmissions, custom high stall torque converters, modified valve bodies, heavy duty components and high performance transmission rebuild kits for Audi, BMW, Jaguar, Mercedes, Saab, Volvo, Volkswagen, VW and ZF transmissions.

Owners of European vehicles will now be able to realize the many benefits of high performance automatic transmissions and related components.

European automatic transmission performance products will be added to our online catalog at the following URL: http://www.importperformancetrans.com/euro_placeholder.shtml
