

Automotive Sales Leads - How To Capture Your Missed Opportunities

Car dealer develops system that will generate thousands of leads right from your current website.

Las Vegas, NV (PRWEB) December 26, 2005 -- Buying 3rd Party leads is necessary expense for car dealers who need prospects, but as you know most of them are just "window shopping" draining your budget, time, and resources.

This is why Hidden Auto Leads.com whose staff includes a 11 year veteran of the auto sales business, has developed this lead generation system that will work for any franchise, territory, market, or website.

As a car dealer, the founder got tired of seeing dealers pay $15, $18, and even $20 for a lead that was not in the market. Now he is exposing what has been learned about how to generate leads to any dealer who wants to reduce their lead generation expenses and dramatically increase their sales simultaneously.

Due to the fact that most conversion rates for websites is less than 4%, Hidden Auto Leads solves the problem that most car dealers face. What to do with the 96% of the visitors that leave your site unaccounted for. In fact, the CEO, Gus Skarlis states: "If you can find a lead generation system that is more effective or that produces more prospects than Hidden Auto Leads, even if it is double the price, I will buy it for you and give you $5,000 for finding it."

"With this system," says a company spokesperson, "It will catapult you way, way, way ahead of your present and future competition, in spite of how successful your marketing campaigns are right now. It will continually increase your market share forever."

"Due to the nature of this system, Hidden Auto Leads is expected to change the way that automotive dealers look at lead generation websites" noted a company insider.
