Grand Rapids, MI (PRWEB) January 06, 2012 -- Dirt bikes roaring, dust flying and a stellar arenacross competition is what's in store for Arenacross fans this weekend in Grand Rapids, MI. The Foremost® Spinechillers Arenacross team will be competing at the Van Andel Arena January 6th-8th, for the 2011-2012 AMA Arenacross series. Foremost has been sponsoring the Spinechillers Arenacross team for two years and is happy to have them in the same town as the Foremost campus.

“We are excited to have our own Arenacross team come to Grand Rapids to compete,” says Randy Slotten, director of marketing. “Being involved in professional racing is an important aspect to Foremost and we've had a successful relationship with the Spinechillers racing team. We value our sponsorships and want to share our safety and product expertise with the racing community.”

Slotten says that the team is very professional, hard working and they get results. The 2011-2012 Spinechillers team is made up of Nathan Skaggs, Willy Browning in the Arenacross class only and Patrick Massie in the Arenacross and Lites classes. In 2010 the team placed three riders in the top ten in the Arenacross class and won the Arenacross Lites East Championship.

“It's great for our local employees, agents and customers to be able to go out and support what we sponsor,” Slotten says. “We are involved in races all over the country, but having our team come here to Grand Rapids is an added value for our organization.”

Foremost is proud to sponsor many teams throughout the Arenacross, Supercross, Road Race and GNCC seasons of 2011-2012. To learn more about Foremost racers and teams go to, <http://foremost.com/news/foremost-racing.asp>.
