

Nationwide Vehicle Wraps Manufacturer, JMR Graphics, Debuts a Vinyl Wrap Project On Its Official Blog

JMR Graphics, Nationwide Vehicle Wraps Manufacturer, showcases their completed reflective vehicle wrap on its official blog.

Central Islip, NY (PRWEB) January 16, 2013 -- On January 16, 2013, Nationwide Vehicle Wraps Manufacturer, JMR Graphics, reveals a completed vehicle wrap that showcases the company's expertise with reflective vinyl vehicle wraps.

The All Wrapped Up blog shows a picture of JMR Graphics' completed reflective vehicle wrap. The wrap, which fully covers a van, was commissioned by electronics retailer P.C. Richard and Sons. The photo shows the back of the van with the graphic lit-up as if the picture was taken during the day, but it is obvious that it is a nighttime snapshot.

The blog mentions that vehicles "never lose their 'voice'" when companies utilize reflective graphics. The images are still crisp, clear and bright whether the vehicle wrap is viewed during the day or at night, which can help put your business ahead of the competition because "your brand is always in the consumer's eye, even when they can't see themselves."

JMR Graphics representative, William Brown states, "Our reflective vinyl wraps are great for businesses with vehicles that do a lot of traveling at night." Brown goes on, "they are perfectly visible during the day, but when it's dark outside, the graphics catch the street lights and headlights, and the graphics really pop for those night viewers. "
