(PRWEB) June 4, 2004 -- As Ryan Posocco and his Eagle Leasing race team get off to a flying start in 2004, Eagle Leasing heads into the busy spring season when renovations and construction projects get into full swing. Already this season, Posocco and his team have posted 3rd and 4th place finishes at the Stafford Motor Speedway.

Eagle Leasing, proud sponsor of Ryan Posocco, is New England's largest independent trailer and container leasing company with more than 40 years of experience. Eagle specializes in leasing quality storage, road, and office trailers in addition to ground level storage containers. With locations in Southboro, Massachusetts, and Orange, Connecticut -- their radio dispatched trucks can quickly and efficiently deliver their equipment throughout New England and Eastern New York.

Just Ten Points Shy of First Place

On April 30, Ryan Posocco drove the Eagle Leasing Chevrolet to a 3rd place finish at the NASCAR Opening Night of the Stafford Motor Speedway. Just like the week before, Posocco led much of the 30-lap race. "Not a bad way to get the year started," smiled Posocco. "In past years," he continued, "we seemed to get off to a slow start then pick up later in the season. But this year we seem to be carrying forward with the momentum we left with last year. We're excited with our finishes so far and look forward to improving as 2004 goes on." Posocco and his team currently sit third in the 2004 championship point standings and are just ten points out of first place.
