

Selling Cars On eBay With Great Results

Recently launched www.MrCarLister.com assists private auto sellers to sell on eBay fast with great results.

(PRWEB) April 5, 2005 -- Ever thought of selling your car online? It may be a very time and money consuming process. Sometimes it takes up to six months to sell a car online and hundreds of advertising dollars spent on various sites.

Private sellers avoid listing their cars on eBay (number one auto site in the world) because of its complexity. Indeed, it is complex to list your car on eBay effectively.

The good news, that recently launched www.MrCarLister.com provides professional auto listing services on eBay Motors' site for private owners. www.MrCarLister.com claims, that using their services, the sellers will achieve better results on eBay.

MrCarLister.com offers a truly valuable service to those folks, who think of selling their car fast and for more dollars. It is very easy to register and upload the photos of your car. You can even submit an appraisal request free of charge.

###

Contact Information

Vigen Sargsyan

<http://www.mrcarlister.com>

630-532-7339

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.