Rogers Realty & Auction Co., Inc. announces their Rolling Stock Auction. Auction opens to the public on site or online September 17, 2016 at 10:00am (EST).

Charlotte, NC (PRWEB) August 22, 2016 -- Rogers Realty & Auction Co., Inc. announces their Rolling Stock Auction. The event will take place September 17, beginning at 10 a.m. (EST) at 5550 Wilkinson Boulevard-Bldg. A, Charlotte, North Carolina 28208. All auction items, including cars, dump/pick-up/utility trucks, vans, buses and much more, will be sold at absolute auction to the highest bidder. A ladder truck and aircraft rescue fire fighter will also be selling with a reserve price. Customers can view auction items and bid online by creating a free account on the Rogers Realty & Auction Co., Inc. website. A preview date is set for Friday, September 16 to view all inventory.

Buyers do not have to be present at the auction as this unique auction experience allows customers the option of bidding on site or online at www.rogersauctiongroup.com. Users can visit the website to set up a free account, view all items up for bid, place and verify bids, complete payments quickly and receive email notifications about the status of their bid.

Today, more than ever before, auctions are providing results for buyers and sellers. Auctions are transparent, and buyers and sellers like that among other benefits of buying and selling at auction. With the ability to view products online, customers can access products miles away from the comfort of their homes, bidding is just as instantaneous as if on site and payments can be processed quickly and easily.

“Over the last few years we have seen much growth in the use of both on site and online auctions,” a spokesperson for Rogers Realty & Auction Co., Inc. said. “Our auctioneers are knowledgeable problem-solvers who take pride in their work while making our customers happy.”
