World Patent Marketing Reviews A Technological Invention. Will MagMoto Unleashed Be the Next World Patent Marketing Low Cost Success Story?

Miami, FL (PRWEB) August 31, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, announces the MagMoto Unleashed, a technological invention that provides a way to connect phones to motorcycles.

"The Motorcycle, Bike & Parts Manufacturing is a $6 billion industry," says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. "The market has shifted from baby boomers to the younger generation. The future is looking up for this industry."

"Driving a motorcycle is a preferred means of transportation by many, particularly those who live in the city," says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. "However, there are many limitations when it comes to entertainment features when driving this type of vehicle. MagMoto Unleashed is a technological invention which improves the entertainment experience of a motorcycle driver without any major alterations to the vehicle."

MagMoto Unleashed is a technological invention that provides cell phone functions for motorcycle drivers via Bluetooth to their helmets. Motorcycles are naturally compact and do not contain any entertainment devices such as a radio or music player. It is also dangerous to hold a phone while driving. This invention is a portable, wireless device made with waterproof material in order to withstand prolonged outdoor exposure. It provides things such as GPS, music, and call functions. MagMoto Unleashed has built-in speakers which allow motorists to listen to their favorite tunes right out of their helmets and take calls or use GPS the same way, with no interruptions. The device automatically switches between the several functions depending on which one is necessary at the time. For example, if music is playing, and the user receives a call, the music will stop so the user can respond to the call. This makes using phone functions on a bike a lot easier and safer.

"MagMoto Unleashed will definitely provide motorcycle riders with some form of relaxing entertainment while on the road," says inventor Richard P. "My invention gives them a safe way to use their phone while on the road. It's a hands-free device so they can keep their eyes on the road at all times."

MagMoto Unleashed is an amazing technological invention that every motorcycle rider will appreciate. It connects a phone's functions with a motorcycle and allows them to be seamlessly used while on the bike.
