World Patent Marketing Reviews A New Novelty Car Invention. Will Chasin Tail Be the Next World Patent Marketing Low Cost Success Story?

Miami, FL (PRWEB) September 10, 2016 -- World Patent Marketing, a vertically integrated manufacturer and engineer of patented products, introduces Chasin Tail, a novelty car invention that will let people customize the way their car looks.

“The automotive accessory industry is worth $34 billion,” says Scott Cooper, CEO and Creative Director of World Patent Marketing. “As technology becomes better, cars last longer. The accessory industry will flourish in this kind of market.”

“Nearly everyone owns a car and most people like to be able to add some accessories to it to make it their own” says Jerry Shapiro, Director of Manufacturing and World Patent Marketing Inventions. “This novelty car invention is a cute addition to any car.”

Chasing Tail is a novelty car invention that gives people a new way to personalize their car. It is a small brown and white deer tail that can be attached to the back of a car. This is a fun and cute way to show off the car to other people. The deer tail is even attached to a device that moves left to right, creating a wagging motion. This invention is well-liked by many people and has proven popular with women. It helps people laugh and calm down if they’re stuck in stressful traffic. Chasing Tail is a great accessory for cars everywhere.

“Humor, laughter, and a touch of silliness,” says inventor Wanda O. “When you're stuck in traffic and everyone is getting impatient and angry this actually helps calm them down because they forget about the situation they’re in and are too busy laughing at my tail. This is a testimony from a women who followed me to a convenience store to ask me where to get a tail. She said it took her mind off of all the traffic.”
