

Women-Proofing Car Sales People

Interpret-Her® supports MotherProof® to change a woman's car buying world, one car salesperson at a time.

Minneapolis, MN (PRWEB) July 21, 2005 -- Interpret-Her® joins forces with Mother Proof® to strengthen car dealers' female market share. More than 85% of new car decisions are influenced by women, yet only nine percent of the general public trust car salespeople. Mother Proof and Interpret-Her are ready to change that.

“We are excited to be working with MotherProof and all that this company represents,” said Terri Whitesel, President/Founder of Interpret-Her. “Serving the women's market better will expand dealers' ability to capture the 91% who don't like car sales people and build loyalty for repeat business and after market service.”

The Mother Proof Dealer Insider Program is designed to help dealers create a more trusting atmosphere and positive buying experience for women and mothers. The current focus in car sales is on the speed and performance of the car – the kind of things that men are interested in knowing. The Insider Program provides dealers with the insights into how women and mothers view the attributes of the car and the whole car buying experience.

Interpret-Her will conduct customer experience sessions with groups of female auto buyers and translate their findings into highly customized sales training programs for the dealer clients. Mother Proof's nationally known mom focused car reviews and newly created Mom Mystery Shopper program will bring a reality check to the dealer's current sales approach and provide future monitoring to assure ongoing success.

Pending local response, Mother Proof plans to launch the program nationally.
