Man on a Mission: Ronn Bailey

Vanguard CEO Ronn Bailey announced he will compete in the 2006 Dakar Road Race - the world's longest and most grueling motor competition

(PRWEB) July 22, 2005 -- With vivid memories of blinding sandstorms, and empty fuel tanks forcing an early disqualification in a race that half the entries finish, Vanguard CEO Ronn Bailey announced he will compete in the 2006 Dakar Road Race - the world's longest and most grueling motor competition.

As a prelude to the 2006 Dakar event, which will run from Lisbon, Portugal through western Africa, Bailey will be the sole U.S. entry in the 2,100 km 6th Morocco Rally starting on May 24 and ending May 29.

Bailey, an amateur driver, was a last minute entry (#235) in the Morocco Rally. His co-driver is Denis Schurger, an experienced road race veteran who has coached Chinese drivers racing in the 2003, 2004 and 2005 Dakar races. BaileyÂ□s team finished in the top 30!

This year, Bailey was the only American driver or team in the Morocco Rally. He also fielded the only American car team in the 2005 Dakar, although NASCAR veteran Robby Gordon raced as part of the Volkswagen Touareg Team.

Marv McGrew, CEO of Success Group International, LLC stated Â□Ronn is a good friend of Success Group and we follow his racing adventures with great anticipation. For Ronn to accomplish what he has in only his second race ever is nothing short of amazing! Ronn has more tenacity of spirit than anyone I know; when he sets his mind to itÂ□he gets it done! Â□
