

Announcing a New Moving Quote Service for Movers Needs

Moving is always a tough job that needs Professional help to be done without hassles. Find out how to make the right choice of your moving service.

Brighton, MA (PRWEB) December 8, 2005 -- Moving is always a tough job. Using a professional moving company helps to alleviate most of the stress that's associated with such a difficult time. Find out how to choose the best moving company to suit your particular relocation needs.

These days, most families will move their household an average of four times. It is one of the three most stressful situations that a family can experience. The savings of doing it yourself pale in comparison to the problems that can arise by not being truly prepared for such a large undertaking.

Companies that need to relocate their office also need to be able to find the best moving companies. They need a reliable outfit that can handle all of their particular requirements without wasting a lot of time on fruitless searches and mediocre or inexperienced moving companies.

This is why people need a reliable resource to aid them is looking for the best local moving company in their area.

“We had to move from New York to Dallas because of my husbands work. I was really worried because I had no idea about the costs or timing issues. We also needed to present a proposal to his company including estimates, insurance coverage, etc. When I went through the yellow pages, the price quotes I got were very high. Browsing through the internet, my son found an online moving company directory. We finally found what we were looking for. I received several quotes all in the same day, from different moving companies in New York.”

“Using the site, we found free moving and packing tips and answers to all of my insurance questions”, says Joanna, 45, of Long Island, New York. “Most importantly, I saved myself time and aggravation. I picked a couple of companies, got estimates and booked my service.”

The web site Joanna used is called mymovingquote.com. The manager, Lisa White, found success by giving customers a free resource that lists the most professional moving companies by area. Customers can get quote, communicate with local companies by telephone or email, get answers to all of their questions and save loads of time and effort.
